

SOUTHbANK
SINFONIA

ENABLE

ADOPT A PLAYER

“ Felix Barrett and Tom Morris’s production of ‘Every Good Boy Deserves Favour’ at the National Theatre is richly alive thanks to Southbank Sinfonia.”

THE TIMES 2009

AN INVITATION...

AS EUROPE’S LEADING ORCHESTRAL ACADEMY, SOUTHBANK SINFONIA HAS ESTABLISHED ITSELF AS A VALUED CULTURAL ASSET WITH A REPUTATION FOR EXCELLENCE, ENGAGEMENT AND INNOVATION.

SbS prides itself on its forward-thinking approach and unique programming initiatives, attracting the collaboration of major and international performers and ensembles who understand the value of the programme to the world of orchestral music.

Under the guidance of an experienced board and management team, the orchestra members, each supported by bursary, engage in an intensive eight-month programme of performance and development, including a comprehensive community education programme.

*"The big pleasure of the night
(at the Royal Opera House) rests with Southbank Sinfonia, a dashing ensemble of recent music conservatoire graduates who plunge with exhilarating fizz, stamina and exactness into Adès's wicked and complex
music."* THE TIMES

ADOPT A PLAYER

Adopt one of Southbank Sinfonia's excellent young players and you will be contributing in a most personal way, by providing one of the bursaries each receives to enable participation in the annual programme. The bursary is a vital part of Sbs as it ensures that only the best players are chosen irrespective of their personal circumstances.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

You can enter the scheme at two levels:

To adopt a full-time Sbs player requires a minimum annual donation of £7,000

This can be donated by an individual or a syndicate

To adopt one of our extra positions, such as harp, piano and trombone, requires a minimum annual donation of £3,500

*Southbank Sinfonia is a registered charity (No 1092461) and all donations may be Gift Aided.

For UK tax payers the net cost of providing a £7,000 bursary for a Southbank Sinfonia player is £5,460.

The net cost of providing a £3,500 bursary for a Southbank Sinfonia player is £2,730

For Trusts and Foundations and non-UK tax payers the cost is £7,000

WE WANT TO SAY 'THANK YOU'

The goal of the programme is to allow our loyal supporters and philanthropists the chance to get to know the SbS family – both its musicians and staff – often in a more informal and intimate setting than the concert hall. As a member of this very special group of donors you will enjoy:

- Invitations annually to at least two special events including opportunities to meet your musician at exclusive rehearsals and private recitals with wine and canapés
- Acknowledgement in all SbS programme books (unless anonymity requested)
- Personalised priority ticket booking service through a dedicated SbS staff member
- Priority rights for SbS special events such as Gala concerts and the Anghiari Festival
- Regular newsletters, player updates and biographies

At the heart of London's cultural life, SbS continually maintains a high quality in all its activities, which in turn attracts commitment and passion from its players, artistic partners and audiences alike.

CONTACT

Stuart Angel

Development Director

Southbank Sinfonia, St John's Waterloo, Waterloo Road, London SE1 8TY

Direct tel: 020 7921 0377 | Fax: 020 7921 0371

Email: stuart@southbanksinfonia.co.uk | www.southbanksinfonia.co.uk